SYMPATHY AND CONDOLENCES:

Terry Yeager passed away on January 26, at home. He had suffered from breathing difficulties for quite some time, and Sandy says that he was at peace, having seen his great-grandchild for the first time this Monday. A memorial service will be held months from now. Service information will be announced once plans are made. Terry's family would appreciate your prayers. Though we will miss him, we can trust that Terry rests in the arms of a loving God.
